MURDER TRIAL

Called in the Massac Circuit Court.

Against Sam Reese—Other Mc-
tropolis Notes.

Circuit court is still in session at Metropolis, and the case against Sam
Reese, who killed his cousin, Wm.
Scott, near Samoth, was called yesterday by Judge Harker. It is thought that great difficulty will be had in securing a jury.

The court will spend the remainder of the week on the criminal docket, or more probably on the Reese case.

Scott, it will be remembered, was stabbed to death by Reese, who was drunk.

NO CONTRACT SUB-LET.

Talk of One—May Be Simply Talk.

The statement of the Register that a contract had been sub-let by Sewerage Contractor Liam White to Messrs. I. D. and James Wilcox for the construction of all the sewers except the main sewer on Third street, is untrue.

Negotiations have been pending between Contractor White and Messrs. Pat Halloran and I. D. Wilcox for several days for a contract similar to the above, but nothing definite has yet been done.

Contractor White called at the Sun office this afternoon and made the above statement, saying that negotiations have reached no stage that any thing definite can be determined.

To the Public.

Complaints are coming in from various sources because of the flooding of certain streets. This is caused by stoppage of sewers in some, in others the sewers are too small to carry off the rainfall. The entire street crew is in the rain this afternoon attempting to relieve as far as possible to do. We ask the rain to bear with us until we can remove the cause permanently, which will be done as rapidly as the weather will permit.

WANT LINDSAY TO RESIGN.

Bold Attempt to Dynamite—Toll Gate in Garretty—Frustrated Guard—Another Terrible Year—Bloodhounds the Ruffian. Other News By Wire.

Lancaster, Ky., Jan. 19.—A bold attempt was made last night to dynamite the toll gates in this county. The attempt was barely frustrated by the guards who fired on the raiders. The feeling on the toll gate question is still very high and more trouble is looked for very at time.

Gladstone, Ill.

New York, Jan. 19.—The news has reached this city that Wm. E. Gladstone has been seriously ill this week at his home at Howarden.

Committed Suicide.

Middlesboro, Ky., Jan. 19.—Wm. Thomas, an employee of the Bennett's Fork Coal company, committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart yesterday. No cause is signed.

SHOT HIS BOY FRIEND.

Sad Accident at Lancaster Which May Cost One Life.

Lancaster, Ky., Jan. 19.—Monday night in the store of Logan & Robinson, William Ward, Jr., shot Roy Broadus in the groin with a forty-four-caliber revolver. The shooting is said to have been accidental. They belong to the best families of the county. Physicians say Broadus cannot recover.

It is a particularly sad tragedy, as the young men are friends and were playmates when younger.

Wealthy Man Kidnapped Struck.

Sturgis, Ky., Jan. 19.—Allan Anderson, who has made money in the milling and planing business in Sturgis, has sold out to his brother, and will go to the Klondike. Mr. Anderson is now engaged in building machinery for the purpose of improved mining in the frozen region.

A Brutal Outrage.

Williamstown, Ky., Jan. 19.—This county is terribly excited today over an outrage perpetrated on a woman last night a few miles from a man and his wife, who were moving, were attacked by a crowd of ruffians in a lonely place on the road and bound and gagged. The woman was outraged and left nearly dead. There is no clew to the ruffians, but bloodhounds are on their trail. They will be in danger of being lynched if captured.

BRYANT LOVES DORA.

It is Believed He is Planning to Elope With Gen. Clay's Wife.

Valley View, Ky., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Gen. Clay early yesterday requested J. A. Young, magistrate, and Albert Dozier, constable, to call at the home of her sister Mrs. Leroy Kelly, today for the purpose of issuing a writ of delivery to regain possession of her goods, consisting of bedding and wearing apparel, that her brother, C. L. Richardson, refused to let her have when he sent her from his home. Dora called on her husband, Gen. Clay, late yesterday and told him about her troubles, when he dispatched a courier with a wagon and word to C. L. to release the goods. C. L. obeyed the orders and released the goods.

Your correspondent called at the home of Leroy Kelly today to interview Mrs. Clay regarding her future plans, but she was out and her sister, Mrs. Kelly, and sister-in-law, Mrs. Tom Richardson, refused to say where Dora was.

Willie Bryant accompanied your correspondent as far as the yard fence, but would not enter the house, as he had previously been forbidden to call when Dora was there. Mrs. Tom Richardson became angry when asked the whereabouts of Dora and said:

"If a reporter was to call at my house I would shoot a hole through him," and she was prepared to do the work, for a 45-Colt's revolver.

The property of Gen. Clay, was lying within her reach. She also said, speaking to Mrs. Kelly, "What do you reckon Willie Bryant wants? I guess he wants somebody to carry some more notes for him."

As your correspondent and Bryant walked away Bryant remarked that "A woman would cause a man to break his neck." That was the first intimation from him that he was in love with Dora. Bryant said the Richardsons were afraid to tackle him single handed, that they wanted a fight of "two pluck one." It is believed that Bryant and Dora are planning an elopement. Bryant, when asked about his and Dora's secret conference yesterday, replied that Dora wanted to tell him that she was not angry with him.

And the meeting at the A. M. E. church had ten conversions and admissions to the church up to last Sunday evening. The work is still going on.

a Hot Debate.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 19.—The members of the House had a lively time this morning over the resolution asking for the resignation of Senator Lindsay. The debate came up on a motion to reconsider, which was declared out of order. Several hot speeches were made on both sides of the question. The silverites demanded the passage of the resolution immediately and they want the resignation of the senator at once.

CUBAN BELLIGERENCY.

A Resolution Favoring It Killed in Congress Today.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The resolution recognizing the belligerency of Cuba was buried in a committee this morning in the house. Many speeches were made and great interest was manifested by the friends of Cuba.

RETURNED HOME.

Mrs. Berry and Her Attorney Leave.

They Accomplished Little—The Funeral.

Mrs. James E. Berry and her attorney, Hon. F. G. Blood, left at noon for Mt. Vernon and as far as could be determined, did not accomplish much during their visit.

The remains of Berry are still at the Nance's undertaking establishment. Mrs. Berry called late yesterday at the undertakers and looked at the remains. She then shed a few tears, probably because the deceased could not tell her what he had done with wealth. After this ceremony she left.

Undertaker Nance has been secured for his share of expense, and will give the remains a decent burial in Oak Grove, even if there is no one there but the undertaker himself and an unsympathetic sexton. The intention was to bury him at 10 o'clock this morning, but the idea was abandoned as the weather was bad, and he is buried at 12 o'clock.

Judge Tully refused to appoint Mrs. Berry administratrix, and Dr. J. D. Robertson is still administrator, and has charge of the effects.

He did not leave last night for Evansville as a contemporary stated, and has no intention of leaving.

Attorney Taylor, who was Mrs. Berry's local adviser, stated that Mrs. Berry would return to Paducah, no more. He said Berry had an estate, but it was scattered all over the country.

Undertaker Nance will probably hold the remains of Berry to await advice from his brother in New York. The arrangements made by Berry's wife were not satisfactory.

MR. CHARLES T. TAYLOR

To Manage La Belle Park Theater Next Season.

Will Put Paducah on a Circuit—
Now in Memphis.

Mr. Chas. T. Taylor, manager of East End Park, and the Auditorium theater, Memphis, will in all probability be manager of La Belle Park theater this season.

Mr. Taylor was in the city this morning, and all the negotiations are complete, and it is virtually settled that he will have the park management.

He is a pleasant gentleman, of general manners, and has bushels of newspaper notices received in Memphis last season. He is this year figuring on securing a circuit, consisting of Birmingham, Ala., Memphis, Tenn., and Paducah. He will open the Memphis theater on May 22, and expects to open the La Belle Park theater the following week. His wife and daughter will be here with him. He has not yet yet decided on whether he will have a stock company or vaudeville, but in either event new specialty people will be brought down each week from Memphis.

Mr. Taylor left this afternoon for Memphis, but will return shortly to complete arrangements.

Want Salt River Opened.

Shepherdsville, Ky., Jan. 19.—Bullitt people want salt river improved as soon as it is possible. Congressman Dave Smith, of the Fourth Kentucky district, has introduced a bill for the improvement of the stream. Of course the bill carries with it the improvement of the Rolling Fork, and if it passes, thirty miles of fine valley territory will be added to Louisville's resources for produce, timber, lumber and other commodities.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 19, 1898

The way to keep from being bitten by a dog or a snake is to keep away from dogs and snakes.

The poor Louisville Dispatch gets the throw-down all along the line. After making the statement some days ago that the future of the Democratic party of Kentucky depended upon whether the Dispatch or the Courier-Journal was to be the recognized leader of the party, it raised some points of issue, the settlement of which would determine this very weighty proposition. First, the Courier-Journal must be rebuked, and Jailer Pfanz punished, by abolishing the office of Jailer. This was to be done by the legislature. But yesterday the House refused to pass the bill, and Pfanz is on top and the Dispatch gets the black eye. Again, the Dispatch was to have been made the official organ of the legislature, and thus by official act, the Courier-Journal was to have been read out of the party. This little scheme also failed to operate, as a resolution appointing the Dispatch the official organ was defeated in the House by a vote of 49 to 42. This inhumanity of the Democracy of Kentucky is very touching; but it is barely possible that Tennessee methods won't work in this state, and it is decidedly evident that the Democrats don't propose to turn over the state to a paper that yet has not been accimated.

THE COTTON MILL STRIKE.
The long expected strike in the New England cotton mills has been partially inaugurated. Reductions in the wages of the operatives of the cotton mills went into force Monday, reduced about 10 per cent, the wages of nearly 125,000 operatives and affecting almost directly 500,000 people. The reduction was followed in some districts by general strikes so that several thousand are idle, and it is thought that 50,000 or more may yet be drawn into the strike. The possibility of a reduction has been discussed in the papers and in other public ways for several weeks, so that it was not unexpected, and the strike has been definitely ordered. For this reason it is likely to be a long and hard fought contest, with public opinion divided and with both sides abundantly supplied with friends.

As was confidently expected this reduction of wages and the consequent strike has been taken up by the Democratic press as a natural consequence of the Dingley tariff, and in some cases capital is even being made out of it behalf of the cause of free silver and Bryanism is held up as a panacea that would have prepared the strike at its least would

MORTON stirs up the PLATINUM sting features of Friday eve, journalism, that is liable to be distorted. The latest far-fetched conclusions "Mis" made to be the legitimate reductions from causes wholly foreign to them and the fallacy of which would readily appear upon a little sober thought.

As a matter of fact this great cotton mill strike is wholly due to internal conditions, and conditions that would be aggravated rather than ameliorated by a low tariff or a depreciated circulating medium. The New England cotton manufacturers find themselves confronted by a competition based upon points of superiority that cannot be overcome, or even met, without drastic measures and radical changes. The effectiveness of Southern competition is due to four facts or conditions:—First, the proximity of the Southern mills to the raw cotton, and the consequent great saving in freight charges. Second, that water power is abundant, easily utilized, and coal is cheap for those mills that prefer steam power. Third, that labor is abundant and cheap and labor organizations relatively are unknown. Fourth, that the Southern manufacturer is not hampered by restrictive labor laws.

To the above points of superiority of the South as a field for cotton manufacture may be added the facts that many transoceanic steamship lines now make their terminals in our ports and hence the South is as near the foreign markets as is New England. Also the Southern climate is conducive to steadier work, being much more equable and temperate than that of New England, and especially is this true of the climate of the Carolinas where most of the Southern mills are located. Indeed, it is confidently asserted by some Southern writers that the natural conditions alone account for the effectiveness of the Southern competition and that the question of wages has nothing to do with it; that, upon an equality of wages, the special line of fabrics now made by the Southern mills could and would be placed upon the market at prices profitable, to the Southern, but ruinous to the New England manufacturer.

Therefore they open up an attack which for fury, for malignancy, for shameless ingratitude to the nation's saviors, for unscrupulous and flagitious lying has never been equaled.

It is more to be dreaded than any former raid, because these men have more brains and able agents at their command than any of their predecessors.

They are shrewd and cunning, where the southern rebels and the northern copperheads have been generally malignant and stupid.

But they are not going to succeed. Their aim is too transparent. Their purposes are too well understood.

They have overreached themselves in their outrageous disregard of the truth. The people of the United States, who sent their sons and brothers and husbands forth to fight and die for the great cause of freedom and national unity, cannot be made to believe that those men were cowards, shirkers and soulless mercenaries.

This generation cannot, at the bidding of the money power, be forced to accept that their fathers and kindred are the shameless frauds these scurvy papers would make out.

The slanders and calumnies will certainly react, as they have in the past, upon their vicious authors, and the great, generous, heroism-loving American people will despise those who, for the dollar's sake, asperse the character of American manhood, and would smite the fame of our glorious citizen-soldiers.

BURIAL OF BUSHNELL.

By an Ohio Post.

Not a drum was heard, not a funeral note,

As his corpse to the boneyard was carted;

Nobody cared for him after the vote,

For his usefulness they had deplored.

They buried his carcass at dead of night,

The sod with a coal-shovel turning—

The grave-diggers, even, got sick at the sight,

And kept old rags and things burning.

Naught in the form of a prayer was said,

Not a word of sorrow was spoken;

The hole had been dug and they dumped in the dead

Whose political neck had been broken.

O, Myers may sing, the spirit that's gone

And so may the man who made him,

But little he'll reck, for he'll have to sleep on

In the grave where McLean's gang has laid him.

Quickly and gladly they threw him down,

With his body all slimy and gory,

In wek he arose to a sort of renow—

And the same week ended his story!

LIT A SHOCK.

Mayfield Gives "Move On" Orders

to Press Dawson.

Another loud mouthed negro has skipped by the light of the moon and made himself scarce in these diggings, says the Mayfield Mirror. Press Dawson was waited upon by a committee last week and notified that his presence in Mayfield could be dispensed with. He took the hint at once and pulled his freight from the community. The air he contaminated by his stay in this town has been taken up so quickly all over the country, as to indicate to close observers that they have been carefully planned beforehand, and the train laid ready for firing. Of course there has always been a continuous sputtering fire on pensions kept up by ill-conditioned papers north and south, representing the hatreds and animosities of the rebellion. But every little while there is, without apparent rhyme or reason, without any exciting cause, whatever, a tornado of abuse and defamation of the pensioners and pensions will start in the New York papers and sweep through the country. Inside of a week certain papers from Boston to San Francisco will be teeming with the same utterly untrue and misleading figures, their correspondents at Washington will be sending them columns of downright falsehoods, and their editorial pages will be filled with the veriest rubbish, presented as solemnly as one of Wiggins' predictions as to the end of the world. Of course, all the smaller papers, that take their cue from there, will have over their malignities and mendacities according to their several abilities.

In the days before Mr. Cleveland was elected the last time it seemed that these periodical raids were organized and maneuvered by the New York importers, who saw in the payment of pensions a use for the revenue derived from customs, and their object in breaking down pensions was to pave the way for free trade. Then the English-toying New York Evening Post and Times, the venal Herald, which is edited from Europe, and the "Yellow" World were usually selected to lead the raid, and it good health to the country in good health is due to the fact that he knew when to "light a shock."

He had probably remembered the warning given him upon the dead body of his friend, Jim Stone, and profited by such a piece of advice as that bloody sheet gave him.

MARRIAGE A FAILURE

To Those Two Couples, Who Apply for Divorce.

Mrs. Mary Paschal instituted divorce proceedings yesterday afternoon in the circuit court against Peter Paschal, her husband, alleging that he has oftentimes beaten her with a loaded cane. She asks the custody of their children and attaches property in Mechanicsburg.

Mrs. Mand Yeltima yesterday afternoon filed suit for divorce against Alex Yeltima alleging cruel treatment.

Train and Street Car Collide.

A car on the Rowlandtown line of the Paducah Street Railway company collided with a train of freight cars on the Illinois Central at Madison and the crossing about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The street car was almost demolished, and the three passengers aboard were more or less shaken up, but not hurt. Motorman Simpson claims he could not see the approaching train. A flagman was at the crossing.

PAY TRAIN

Steps in Ahead of Its Scheduled Time.

The Illinois Central pay train slipped in unexpectedly yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, and all employees who called at the train received pay.

Today the remainder were paid, and for the next night or two trade will be brisk as a result.

control, in ways that do not pay them tribute. Monopolists of money, they are prepared to fight to the death anything that interferes with their monopoly. The pension system is the greatest interference that they have. It keeps great amounts of money constantly flowing in healthful circulation through channels that they cannot compress, control, or direct. It makes the mass of the people too independent of them.

Therefore they open up an attack which for fury, for malignancy, for shameless ingratitude to the nation's saviors, for unscrupulous and flagitious lying has never been equaled. It is more to be dreaded than any former raid, because these men have more brains and able agents at their command than any of their predecessors.

They are shrewd and cunning, where the southern rebels and the northern copperheads have been generally malignant and stupid.

But they are not going to succeed. Their aim is too transparent. Their purposes are too well understood.

They have overreached themselves in their outrageous disregard of the truth. Deafness Cannot Be Cured

By local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by an intestinal remedy. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the ear, and the only way to cure it is to inflame you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result. The only way to a cure is to be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition. Hearing will be restored for a time, but it will be again caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflammation of the mucous membranes.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that can be cured. Miss Lavinia Clegg, Send for circulars, free. J. C. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Hall's Family Pins are the best.

THE COUNCIL

Called to Meet in Special Session

Tomorrow To Take Up the Corrugated Iron Matter.

Mavor Lang has called a meeting of the council for tomorrow night, to take some action on the corrugated iron buildings a number of people desire to erect inside the fire limits.

The matter was referred at the last meeting, and there is considerable interest manifested in it. Messrs. Leeb & Bloom desire to erect a substantial building of the material on First street, which would be a vast improvement over the houses located there.

City Attorney Lightfoot says the council cannot by ordinance make a special concession in these cases without repealing the entire fire limits ordinance, but some of the councilmen do not agree with him.

But whatever action the council take, in every instance where a request has been made to erect these houses, they would be a decided improvement over the ones now on the respective sites.
